Pacific Naval Strategy Subject of Capt. Wright In Talk Tonight at 8:00

V. Bush To Speak For Graduation

Head of Carnegie Institute Is Inventor, Educator And Engineer

SEVERAL DEGREES HELD BY SCHOLAR

Dr. Vannevar Bush, president of the Carnegie institution of Washington, D. C. has been selected as graduation speaker this year. He will speak Monday, June 12, in Mead Memorial chapel at the Commencement exercises. His subject has not yet been announced.

Dr. Bush, a graduate of Tufts college, took his B. S. and M. S. degrees at that institution in electrical engineering in 1913. In 1916, M. I. T. and Harvard awarded him an honorary Sc. D. degree, and Eng. D. degree.

Practical Engineer

Practical work in the field of electrical engineering by Dr. Bush has included a position in the test department of the General Electric company, work in the inspection department of the Navy, and during the war, research on submarine detection and connection with special board on submarine devices. After further employment with the navy, Dr. Bush acted as consulting engineer with the American Radio and Research corporation in the early days of the industry.

Dr. Bush has had equal experience in the matter of education. He acted as mathematics instructor at Tufts in 1914 for a year before he was granted the position of assisant professor of electrical engineering at that same institution. In 1922, he went to M. I. T. as assistant professor of the electrical power transmission department, and the next year, he was raised to the position of professor of the department. In 1932, Dr. Bush was made vice president and dean of the engineering school at M. I. T. Recently, he was chosen president of the Carnegie institution, school of research.

Inventor

In the field of invention, he has been equally famous. He has built a differential analyser; a machine for solving differential equations.

Dr. Bush has been the joint author of two books concerned with electrical engineering: "Principles of Electrical Engineering," and "Operational Circuit Analysis." He also has contributed numerous articles to scientific journals.

Other activities of the speaker have included the trusteeship of Tufts college, a directorship in the Spencership Thermostat company, and a position on the board of Raytheon manfacturing company. In 1928, Dr. Bush was made Levy Medalist of Franklin institute.

C. C. CLASSES TO HEAR CAPT. GEORGE WRIGHT, RETIRED NAVY OFFICER

Tonight at 8:00 p. m. in Mead Memorial chapel, Captain George B. Wright will give a lecture entitled "Naval Strategy in the Pacific." The talk will be illustrated with maps. Captain Wright is a retired United States Naval officer, and was elected last year to the House of Representatives by his county. He now lives in Orwell, Vermont.

The lecture, compulsory for all members of Prof. Heinrichs' Contemporary Civilization classes, is open to all upperclassmen, and there will be no admission charge. Prof. Heinrichs promises that this talk will be "one of the unusual and highly interesting lectures of the year." The speaker has chosen a very timely topic, especially since President Roosevelt has so recently ordered the major part of the United States fleet back into Pacific waters. It is generally understood that this move was directed against Japan, just as Roosevelt's speech was addressed against Hitler and Mussolini. It is thought that the speaker tonight will cover these aspects fully.

Prize Speaking Is Held At Playhouse

Merrill Contest Honors to Silverman Followed by Hovey in Second Place

Eli Silverman '41, stressing in his talk the importance of proper selection and preparation of teachers, won the first prize of $22.50 in the Merrill Prize Speaking contest held in the Playhouse last night.

According to Silverman, the teacher although he cares for the health of the mind, receives far less preparation than the clergymen and physicians who minister to the soul and body. He suggested that the teaching profession could be improved by raising the salaries of its members, giving them an opportunity to travel, and creating a definite means of testing prospective teaching candidates.

Second prize of $17.50 was awarded to Leroy F. Hovey '41, who spoke on socialized medicine. Pointing out the poor condition of our facilities for caring for the sick poor, Hovey stressed the advantage of a socialized plan of medical care, both economically and practically.

Third and fourth prizes went to Ray H. Kiely '40 and Robert L. deVeer '41 respectively. Kiely advocated individualism in opposition to the collectivism which, he feels, is gripping the world today; and deVeer presented "A Case for the Theatre." Speaking on the controversy which exists between the screen and the legitimate stage deVeer pointed out the limitations of each medium and expressed the opinion that they would, within the next decade, cease to be opponents and be mutually helpful.

John Mason Brown Will Lecture On Current Drama Tomorrow Evening

Critic of New York Post Called Outstanding Speaker By William Lyon Phelps and J. Brooks Atkinson in Their Reviews

HAS WRITTEN SIX BOOKS ON STAGE

John Mason Brown will lecture on the contemporary theatre tomorrow evening at 8:15 in Mead chapel. His lecture is entitled "Broadway in Review." This talk is part of the College Entertainment series and admission will be free to the students.

Mr. Brown is dramatic critic of the New York Post. He began his writing career as a reporter on the Louisville Courier Journal even before he entered college. He attended Harvard university and was a member of George Pierce Baker's 47 Workshop course. In 1923 he was graduated with a cum laude degree.

In 1931-32 he gave a course at Yale university on "The History of Criticism from Aristotle to the Present." He has also taught at Columbia university, the Bread Loaf Writer's conference and given summer courses in playwriting and the history of modern theatre at Harvard.

Magazine Critic

From 1924 to 1928 he was associate editor and drama critic of Theatre Arts Monthly. Since 1929 he has held his present position on the New York Post.

Six books on the theatre have been written by Mr. Brown. "Two On the Aisle" is his most recent work. His other books are "The Art of Play-going", "Letters from Greenroom Guests", "The American Theatre", "Upstage", and "The Modern Theatre in Revolt".

William Lyon Phelps has said of him, "John Mason Brown is one of the best lecturers in the United States."

The drama critic of the New York Times, J. Brooks Atkinson, says, "From every point of view John Mason Brown is an ideal dramatic critic. As the critic of the New York Evening Post he discusses every day the merchantable goods of Broadway. But he is also a scholar; he knows the history of the stage, the technique of acting and producing, the art of stage decor; and his books disclose a mastery of the entire subject. Mr. Brown brings to his profession a rich background, a sagacity of judgment, a full and alert mind and an infectious enthusiasm. These are the gifts that make him an ideal dramatic critic."

Jack Harrington Slated To Play For Senior Ball

Grafting of Washington Elm Will Commemorate Inauguration

With members of the Senior Week committee busy with preparations for comprehensive examinations, the committeemen, headed by Kenneth M. Kinsey and Cora May Farrier have completed their plans for the Senior Week, which opens on June 8, with the Senior Ball.

Jack Harrington and his orchestra will play at the Ball, which will be held at the Inn.

The grafting from the Washington elm, to be used in the annual tree planting, has arrived. This tree has special significance this year in that this is the 150th anniversary of the inauguration of George Washington as president, and the tree planting will commemorate this event.

Although the caps and gowns have not yet arrived, it is expected by the committee that they will arrive in time for Moving-Up day, which is the last Saturday of classes.

An enlarged commencement booklet has been ordered by the committee, headed by Foster P. Whitworth. Planned by Whitworth, the booklet this year will be twice as large as usual. This year's edition will be on white leather, and tied with navy blue ribbon, and will contain pictures of the class officers, the class poem, a senior week program, graduate degrees and numerous pictures of the campus.

Commencement announcements and invitations have been ordered by Frederic A. Wheeler, and it is expected that they will arrive within a few days, ready for distribution.

Two tickets for the commencement exercises will soon be distributed to the members of the senior class. If there are any additional ones available, they will also be distributed to the members of the graduating group.

Junior Prom Held Thursday Evening

M. Elinore McDermott as Queen Presented with Silver Cup and Crown

Flowers and evergreens transformed McCullough gymnasium into a spring garden for the annual Junior Prom Thursday from nine until two p. m. Blue paper streamers which gave the appearance of a low ceiling and colored lights high above them caried out the color scheme.

Les Brown and his Duke Blue Devils featuring the leader's clarinet, provided music for the dancers with notable arrangements of "Our Love", and "Old Man Mose".

Junior Week chairman Paul S. Eriksson presented a crown and a silver cup to Prom Queen M. Elinore McDermott, immediately following intermission. Bouquets of mixed cut flowers were then presented to the queen and her attendants, Edith P. Egbert '39, Bertina Ansart '40, Mary T. Stetson '41 and Virginia S. Poole '42.

President and Mrs. Paul D. Moody, Dean and Mrs. John H. Patterson, Professor Arthur M. Brown, Professor Mary S. Rosevear, and Professor and Mrs. Ennis B. Womack were chaperones in the receiving line.

Arthur F. Jaques and M. Elizabeth Robertson were co-chairmen of this event. The committee assisting them included George F. Lewin, Franklin W. Myers, Herbert G. Schoepke, Harold I. Wyman, Elizabeth A. Bucher, Doris E. Keffer, Esther L. Korn, and Martha E. Taylor, all of the class of 1940.

MORTAR BOARD HOLDS INITIATIONS, GIVES CUP TO RUTH H. PACKARD '41

Ruth H. Packard '41 was presented the Mortar Board cup by Pres. Paul D. Moody in chapel yesterday. Formal initiation of the five junior women recently tapped for membership in the honorary organization was held yesterday and was followed by a banquet at the Inn.

Initiated yesterday afternoon were D. Jane Acker, Marjorie N. Burditt, L. Elizabeth Dorchester, M. Elizabeth Robertson and Jean L. Rose.

The cup is Mortar Board's annual award to the sophomore woman "who has shown the greatest interest in college work by attaining high scholarship and by participation in extra-curricular activities."

Co-chairman of next year's Winter Carnival, Miss Packard is on the governing board of Skyline and assistant business manager of the Mountain club handbook. She is vice president of Student Union, treasurer of Women's Forum, vice president of Alpha Xi Delta and secretary of W. A. A.

Last year Miss Packard was secretary of her class and was on Dean's list. She has served on committees for the Frosh Frolic and Soph Hop, has been on the all-Midd hockey team for two years, and was class captain of volleyball.

Jean L. Rose '40 was awarded the cup last year, and Marjorie A. Kohr '39 was the recipient two years ago.

Co-operative Plan Will Be Repeated

New Executive Council for Next Year; Sophomore, Two Juniors Appointed

At a recent meeting of Middlebury's co-operative buying association, which purchases the bulk of the supplies for the college's seven fraternity houses, Paul S. Eriksson '40, Clifford H. Philo '40 and Wiliam J. Bursaw '41 were elected as members of the executive council for the coming year.

Eriksson was appointed head of the committee, accepting the position last night. At the meeting during which the new executive council was elected were the present stewards of each fraternity on campus as well as the stewards for the coming year.

Besides the election the chief point of discussion at the meeting was the success of the co-operative during the past year. Although some of the participants seemed to feel that the idea had not been wholly successful and expressed doubt as to whether it should be continued for another year, the final consensus of opinion was that the scheme, on the basis of what it had accomplished in its first year of work, was worth repeating.

Warren S. Clark '40, who has been business manager in charge of all buying for the co-operative since February, produced figures to show that each house on campus had benefitted in money saved through the use of the new system. Clark will remain in office until February of 1940. He succeeds Edwin G. Nixon '39 who was the first business manager for the group.

Another matter which the committee will have to consider in the near future, according to Eriksson, is the position of Sigma Alpha, the new fraternity on campus. The new group has already leased a house and plan to run a dining-room next fall. They therefore are entitled to become members of the co-operative.

Waubanakee Taps Four Junior Men

Eriksson, Jaques, Stabile, Profy Elected to Senior Society at Variety Show

Four members of the class of 1940 were elected Waubanakee members at the Variety show last Friday night. The four men tapped were Paul S. Eriksson, Arthur F. Jaques, Albert Profy, and John P. Stabile, all of the class of 1940.

Waubanakee is the highest honorary society for senior men, and elects its men for ability and service in college activities.

All of these men are members of Blue Key. Eriksson is business manager of the CAMPUS, and has been a mainstay on the basketball team for the past three years. Jaques has won his M in both football and baseball. Profy, who was competing in a track meet at the time of the tappings, has been a member of both the track and football teams for two years. He is manager-elect of basketball. Recently elected president of M club, Stabile has distinguished himself as regular center on the football team for the past two seasons, and is captain for the coming season. He was treasurer of his class in his freshman year.

WILLIAMS CONFERENCE

Reports from the recent Liberal Club conference, held at Williams college, indicate that an outstanding group of American liberals pulled no punches in discussing the problems of democracy. Herbert S. Agar, Mordecai Ezekial, Prof. Frederick L. Schuman, Philip E. LaFollette and others presented varying shades of liberalism and united only on the thesis that America alone has a chance to save democracy for the world.

Mr. Agar took about the same line he did when he addressed Middlebury students in chapel earlier this year. He scathingly indicts America for callous indifference to the deplorable economic, physical and mental state of the submerged masses. Furthermore, he believes that Americans don't want to know about such things. They prefer to hear about the horrors perpetrated in the name of fascism abroad. He directly contradicts Professor Schuman, who believes that America must go abroad to fight fascism on its own ground.

Mr. Agar's ideas are more appealing than those of Professor Schuman. Fascism's own ground may be Europe at the present time, but, unless we get busy and clean up our problems here, it will be ridiculously easy for that ground to be extended across the water. It won't be by force of arms either; it will grow out of the misery and discontent fostered by our own criminal inaction.

HARLAN COUNTY

The sending of state militia into Harlan county, Kentucky, by Governor "Happy" Chandler was a deliberate attempt to induce trouble there and provide justification for the refusal of some mine operator's associations in that region to sign the negotiated contract.

Governor Chandler stated that the troops were sent in to protect the return to work by miners who desired to do so. This return to work has assumed the mammoth proportions of a two per cent trickle, according to the union. The Governor says "apparently a lot wanted to return" but quotes no figures to bolster his statement.

The activities of the troops reveal what their real purpose is. They are stationed along the highways and on the borders of West Virginia and Tennessee "to keep out union men from these states." Restriction of the use of the public highways in this fashion is a misuse of the power of the state on behalf of the mine operators and is in the true Harlan county tradition.

Reports from the area indicate that the presence of the soldiers is the biggest incitement to disorder. Rumors spead rapidly and tension increases as more and more troops pour in. Yet no major disorders have been reported publicly to justify the continued sending in of soldiers. Added troops contribute to added tension.

NOTICES

Mrs. Hathaway Scholarship: Applications for the Grace Hathaway scholarship are due May 20.

June Grades: Students who wish June grades sent to them must leave stamped, addressed envelopes with class designated, at the Registrar's office.

Katherine Gibbs Representative: Mrs. Katherine Dunbar, a representative from the Katherine Gibbs secretarial schools in Boston, Providence and New York, will be at Forest Hall on the afternoon of Tuesday, May 23 for individual conferences. Any girl wishing to make appointments should do so through Miss Adelma J. Hadley.

Art Exhibit: Mrs. Charles Kaiser's exhibit of watercolors and oil paintings now hung in Forest Recreation room will be left there until Saturday. This will give an additional opportunity for students to attend the exhibit.

Kaleidoscope pictures: Students and faculty members who took pictures of Junior Week events and wish to submit them for consideration for use in the 1941 Kaleidoscope are requested to communicate with the editor, Lester W. Ingalls '41, sometime before next Saturday.

Kaleidoscope tryouts: The second meeting for those freshmen, both men and women, who wish to try out for the editorial staff of the 1942 Kaleidoscope will be held Wednesday, May 24, at 4 p. m. in room 9, Old Chapel. All those who are interested and did not report at the first meeting are requested to attend.

Car Privilege: Senior car privilege has been granted to all seniors effective immediately.

World's Fair Tickets: A limited number of World's Fair tickets are available to students and faculty. Application should be made to Mrs. Powell in President Moody's office.

Conference On Liberalism Well Attended At Williams College

Three unofficial delegates from Middlebury travelled to Williamstown recently to attend a conference of liberals organized by Williams College Liberal club. Informally conducted in four round table discussions and two speaking sessions, the conference brought together an unusually varied group of eminent progressives.

Each of these men is attempting in his field to solve the pressing economic and political problem of America today. In spite of disagreement as to method and application, the conference unanimously urged the necessity of an immediate operation upon democracy to restore to the people the rights guaranteed to them by democratic government.

Outstanding Speakers

Climaxing each day's session were two outstanding addresses, one on Friday by Harold J. Laski, world's leading political scientist from the University of London, on Saturday the closing speech by former Governor Philip LaFollette of Wisconsin, foremost American Progressive leader. In the round table discussions were, besides these men, such noted liberal thinkers as Herbert Agar, journalist; E. L. Oliver, organizer and executive vice-president of labor's Non-Partisan League; Mordecai Ezekial, New Deal government administrator; Morris L. Ernst, labor defense attorney, before the Supreme court. From the Williams College faculty were drawn President James P. Baxter, Max Lerner, author of "It is Later Than You Think," Enrique de Lozado, Bolivian speaker in behalf of Latin America ,and Frederick Schuman, foreign policy expert.

American people must face American problems. This was the keynote struck by Mr. Herbert Agar in a speech in which he pointed out the grave danger of allowing conditions of poverty, unemployment, loss of franchise, and racial prejudice to persist. To Mr. Agar's charges of inactivity, illustrated by a vivid account of poverty and starvation in the south (called by President Roosevelt America's number one economic problem), Mr. Oliver responded with the labor union remedy which has accomplished and is accomplishing gradual improvement. Mr. Oliver called this process "whittling away" and estimated that within two decades the Non-Partisan League will have accomplished nation-wide organization. He suggested that this organization could become the farmer-labor party of the future.

Mr. deLozado reminds us that Latin America is the backyard of the United States, and if the backyard continues to be infested with foreign weeds it will infect this United States. He cited the recent dictatorship established in Bolivia under fascist influence.

Governor LaFollette

All of these programs and suggestions paved the way for Governor LaFollette who gave the closing speech of the conference. Mr. LaFollette presented a plan for concrete application of liberal ideals in the national government. He compared our present economy with a boiler whose pressure has been increased fifty times in the last thirty years without corresponding increase in the size of the boiler and number of radiators. Atop the boiler he pictured the old-line Republicans and Democrats twiddling their thumbs and saying "Let nature take its course".

Theta Chi Omega Wins Cup for Second Year as Alpha Sigma Phi Takes First in Men's Singing

The annual step-singing contest for fraternities and sororities on Sunday evening on the steps of Mead chapel brought to a close the crowded schedule of Junior Week events.

Alpha Sigma Phi, singing the rollicking sea chanty, "Away to Rio" and a fraternity hymn, "Hail Alpha Sigma Phi" took the cup which was won last year by Kappa Delta Rho. Delta Upsilon took second place with the "Winter Song" and "Toast to D. U."

Sorority Winner

In the sorority contest, Theta Chi Omega won for the second successive year. The two songs, one of which is as yet untitled, were written by the members of the sorority, "everyone taking a hand in it", as one of the girls said. The second song was "Lily of the Valley."

Kappa Kappa Gamma was second in this division. Their songs were "Not Thy Key" and "Memories."

Paul S. Eriksson '40, chairman of Junior Week, acted as master of ceremonies. The first group he introduced was Delta Kappa Epsilon. Their songs were the "D. K. E. Lion March" and "We Hail Thee Holy Goddess."

Pi Beta Phi was the first of the sororities to sing, their selections being "Follow the Arrow" by Marie L. Stockmayer '41 and the "Pi Phi Symphony."

The other fraternities who competed were Beta Kappa, singing "Hymn to Beta Kappa" and "Drink to Beta Kappa" and Chi Psi who sang the "Panther Song" and "Dear is the Badge." The latter number was sung by a quartet, with the chorus in the background.

Fails to Repeat

Kappa Delta Rho, winners last year, tried to continue their winning with "We're Gathered Here Today Boys" and "The Orange and the Blue." Sigma Phi Epsilon sang a medley of college songs and the "Sigma Phi Epsilon Anthem." The medley began with the "Panther Song", included songs of Navy, Amherst, and Cornell, and ended with "High on the Hill," by Robert A. Rowe '38.

The sororities who completed the program, and their selections were, Alpha Xi Delta, singing the "Rose of Alpha Xi" and "She's an Alpha Xi," Delta Delta Delta, with "Tri-Delt True" and "The Sea". Phi Mu, winners of honorable mention last year, who sang "Song of Gold" and "Serenade," and Sigma Kappa, which was the only group to depart from the usual line-up to form a triangle. Their songs were the "Loyalty Ode" and "Down at the Rainbow's End."

Carol Hubbard '41 Wins Debate Post

Tryout System for Picking Members of Team Will Be Unchanged for Year

Carol E. Hubbard '41 was elected manager of the women's debating team at a meeting of the debaters and faculty advisors of the group. All women who had participated in one debate were entitled to vote.

Tryouts from all classes will be called out next fall. Those who have taken part in contests this year are. Gertrude M. Bittle '39, Margaret Doubleday '39, Frances E. Kellogg '39, Ruth E. Webb '39, Faith S. Wohnus '40, Miss Hubbard, Ruth H. Packard '41, Elizabeth G. Stratton '41, Audrey H. Wouters '41, and Alice J. Austin '42.

A system similar to this year's will be followed in next year's tryout meetings. A faculty council will be present to judge the speeches of the tryouts and to suggest improvements in delivery, material, presentation, etc. This year the faculty council was composed of Miss Clara B. Knapp, Miss Rose E. Martin, Prof. Reginald L. Cook, Prof. Perley C. Perkins, and Prof. Ennis B. Womack. Professor Perkins acted as debating coach and has accompanied the team on its out-of-town trips.

Four trips were engaged in this season, to Boston, to the New York area, to Salem, Mass., and to Keene, N. H. Home contests were with University of Vermont, Bates college, Upsala college, Connecticut State college, St. Lawrence university, and Boston university.

KDR Trophy Won By R. Cushman '39

President Moody Presents Eleventh Annual Award At Variety Show Friday

During an appropriate intermission in the Variety Show last Friday night President Paul D. Moody made the annual presentation of the K. D. R. cup. Robert V. Cushman '39 was the winner of the trophy.

The body which chose the winner consisted of four faculty members and three members from the student body. Faculty members were President Moody, Dean John H. Patterson, Director of Athletics Arthur M. Brown, and a faculty representative, Prof. Reginald L. Cook. Representing the student body were Edward J. Langey '40, Albert Profy '40, and Frederic L. Davis '40.

Each year the Kappa Delta Rho fraternity gives a cup which is awarded on the basis of the individual's interest in extra-curricular activities, including athletics and non-athletics, scholarship, character, and loyalty to the ideals and traditions of Middlebury college.

Cushman, a resident of the town of Middlebury, has been active in several phases of extra-curricular activity. He has been a member of the varsity track team for three years, serving as captain this season, and has also been a soloist with the college choir. He is a member of Chi Psi fraternity.

Wilson F. Clark Gets First Prize; Jam Session Wins Second

By Alan B. Howes '41

"Swing your partners. . . .Promenade all." We had suspected that almost anything could happen at Friday night's variety show, but we had not expected a square dance. Add to this the fact that all the dancers were faculty members! And what's more they seemed to be enjoying themselves immensely!

Luckily the curtain was drawn before the dancers were completely exhausted and the audience was left to watch the antics of Johnny D'Errico and Doc Lees who were perched on ladders in front of the stage. We found that their function was to read two old newspapers and make general comments on the progress of the show, although we had thought at first that perhaps they had been taking down the decorations from the prom and had been left stranded.

"The Old Homestead"

Next Chas Conley who served as announcer throughout the evening, appeared to announce that the next number would be entitled "The Old Homestead—New Style." Merle Arthur, Cliff Backup, and Bill Ferguson appeared in this burlesque of an old story, which was presented by the new fraternity, Sigma Alpha.

This was followed by Gus Root who put on a very clever act with a whip. Next Ralph Petrizzi, accompanied by Jim Smith sang three Italian songs and one in English, "A Spirit Flower."

Bob deVeer and Betty Grace Heldman next wheeled themselves onto the stage in baby carriages to present "The Baby Derby, or Who Won the Loving Cup." This combination of acrobatics and antics ended with an off-stage fight from which Miss Heldman emerged victorious. According to last reports Bob was resting comfortably in Porter hospital, while his partner still has possession of the coveted trophy.

The program continued with two songs, "My Love is a Fisherman" and "My Reverie," by Betty Anne Dunning. After the first number one freshman man was heard to remark, "And I haven't got a fishing license yet!"

Dory Keffer and Betsey White were next on the program. They gave a black-face dance entitled "A Study in Brown." After this Wilson Clark sang a group of songs, accompanying himself on the guitar. He started by singing "Home on the Range." But the audience would not let the matter rest there. They kept clapping and forced him to give an encore even after the curtain had been drawn. His act was later awarded first prize by the judges.

The act which subsequently won third prize came next. It was called "Schnitzelbank" if that means anything to you—it didn't to us. Members of the choir took part in this dialectical battle.

Jam Session

The concluding act was an intimate glimpse of life in North Starr given by freshmen Bob Halligan, Rog Howard, Phil Lees, and Bill Youngs. Rog Howard started the act with a very convincing drunk imitation. Then a jam session, unrivalled in the annals of Middlebury for its heat, began. The boys were called back for an encore, and the curtain finally fell just before sheer exhaustion must have set in. This number subsequently was awarded second prize.

Thus the curtain was rung down on the Junior Week variety show. The enjoyment it afforded lay in the quality suggested by the title—it certainly had variety!

Panther Amazons Tie Faculty Men 18-18 In Friday's Softball Slug Fest

By Robert W. Lord '39

Staging a wild come-back comparable only to that of the proverbial Panther, the junior girls softball team managed to tie the faculty in a slugfest Friday morning at the girls' athletic field.

After a show of some weakness in the first four innings, the gals held the faculty all but scoreless in the next four frames, and staged a rally, magnificent I swear, in the ninth to tie the men at 18 all.

Comeback by Girls

The gals opened this battle of the sexes with an evident lack of coordination in fielding which allowed the men to tally eleven times to their four in in the first few stanzas of the contest. Home-run Nash placed a few out in the cornfield near Forest hall, while Brown, Wissler, and others of the faculty, appeared to be hitting pitcher Brewer pretty hard. Even so, however, predictions that the faculty would walk away with the game were proved groundless. Their game was not up to their pre-season practice, and all scouts were disappointed. Throughout the first four frames the gals put up a lot of stiff resistance which made the men puff every time they ran across the plate.

Going into the fifth the gals were re-animated, rejuvenated and really began to play ball. Coached by Nash and Umpire Gustafson (quite unethically—see the rule book), the gals tightened up, and the men began to go out, and OUT with umph. It was about this time that Miss Keffer ran over from third to second to put Brown out. Brown had to slide, and Miss Keffer tried an aerial put out—turning a triple somersault before she came down. Slugger Perkins seemed to lose his stride and fouled out twice. The gals were now clicking, and when the men did get a hit, for some unaccountable reason they couldn't round the bases in any kind of style.

It seemed to us that the umpire was partial, but we wouldn't know—must be fair about this. When it came to the ninth, after fast put-outs in the preceding cantos, Kelly, who had been weakening in the box, walked three potential hitters and, with bases full sent Miss Grosenbaugh to first on balls. Then the girls' mound ace, Brewer, got a double, and the race was on. All we could do from then on was mark down the runs as they came in. Kelly was knocked out of the box, and Nash went in, only to fill the bases three times and empty them—the wrong way. Finally the gals had four outs, but the profs had a consultation with the math department and decided that they couldn't count, so everybody was happy and the game went on.

Profs in Trouble

The profs were in bad straits. Perkins' chapeau seemed down over one eye. At least he couldn't hit. Brown tried to bat, but a ball, high and inside, put out his cigarette—but we shouldn't say too much; he did a good job of holding down first throughout the game.

Then the gals let in most of the audience to help them field—or were we just seeing double? The profs countered by getting the ump's two little nephews to pinch-hit for them. Wissler borrowed a team-mate to help bat one that came a little high. Then the game sort of went to pieces. The faculty wives started to get hungry and draw away the players. At any rate, it was a good close game. The gals have a championship outfit, and the faculty fought hard—no matter who felt stiff Saturday morning.

CAMPUS Wins In Honor Competition

N. S. P. A. Gives College Newspaper First Class National Contest Rating

The Middlebury CAMPUS has been awarded First Class Honor Rating for the year 1938—1939 by the National Scholastic Press association, it was announced last week by Robert W. Lord '39, former editor of the publication.

This is the first year in which Middlebury has recived First Class Honor Rating.

Over four hundred college newspapers were entered in the contest this year from forty-six states, Hawaii, and the District of Columbia. They were divided into classes according to frequency of issue and enrollment of their college, then graded on a point basis. The CAMPUS, which was required to submit all issues for the first half-year won points chiefly for news coverage and balance, copy-reading and proofreading, headlines, typography, make-up, editorials and sports. No judgment was made upon cuts or advertising. Especial commendation was given the regular "Alumni Notes."

The First Class Honor Rating is equivalent to "excellent" and stands only below All American Honor Rating, which was awarded to only seven colleges in Middlebury's class. According to Lord, there is no reason for the CAMPUS to be satisfied with the honor it has received. There is every reason to think that the All American honor can be attained next year. Because of its exchange arrangements with other colleges, the CAMPUS acts as a form of "window dressing" for the college.

Annual Tea Dance Held Friday Afternoon at Inn

Nearly three score dancers enjoyed the music of the Black Panthers at the Junior Week tea dance held at the inn on Friday. The dance was held between four and six, following the Midd-St.Michael's tennis match in the course of Junior Week events.

The faculty members chaperoning were Dr. and Mrs. Charles D. Howell, Mr. Rex N. Webster, and Miss Mary A. Williams. Donald T. Spore and Ruth O. Raymond were the juniors in charge of the event.

The Panthers presented their new five-piece outfit which is currently playing at the Bardwell hotel in Rutland Saturday nights. Several members of the Les Brown band, which had played for the Junior Prom at the gymnasium the night before, sat in with the Panthers at the tea dance.

EIGHT SENIORS WIN DRAMATIC PRIZES LAST WEDNESDAY

Winners of the annual drama awards, honorary recognition for excellent work in the Drama department and its productions, received prizes from Prof. V. Spencer Goodreds after the second performance of the Junior Week play last Wednesday. Awarded only to seniors, the honors of certificates and key went this year to Warren Rohrer, Stanley E. Sprague, Norma E. Parsons, and Betty Riexinger.

These four recipients were given both the certificate and key; the certificate or 'shingle' is awarded for good work in acting, or meritorious work in play production while the key is given as a higher honor for excellence in acting and production work, and unusual interest in dramatics.

Four more awards to students who have generally been more concerned with back-stage and property work, and in directing rather than in acting were given to Gertrude M. Bittle, Anne Mears, Dorothy H. Smith, and Dorothy E. Wing.

The merits on which the awards are made are shown in the drama work that the first four winners have done. Sprague has shown great versatility in acting, particularly in the portrayal of character parts. He has taken parts in most of the main productions for the last three years. Rohrer has also been outstanding in his acting, and has done much work back-stage, particularly as an electrician.

Miss Riexinger has done no actual acting, but she has helped on property committees, in costuming, and in make-up work. Hardly a production has been presented in four years in which she has not had an active job. She has also been one of the student directors of the experimental one-act plays. Miss Parsons, like Miss Riexinger, has done very little acting, but she has been prominent in property and make-up work, and particularly in production projects.

Sigma Alpha Completes Contract for New House

Number 5 College street is the new home of Middlebury's newest fraternity, Sigma Alpha. The contract for the house, which was the "radio shop," was completed last Saturday by William Ferguson '41 the president and founder of the fraternity. This house will be run on a plan similar to the other fraternity houses on campus providing rooms for 15 men and eating facilities for 20.

Two new pledges were added to the list of charter members of Sigma Alpha. They are Herbert G. Schoepke '40, and Carlos E. Richardson '42. This has raised the total membership of the group to 18 men.

William A. Onion '40 Explains Factors Involved in Putting New Constitution into Effect for Next Year

By Alan B. Howes '41

Feeling that there had been many questions around campus as to how the new constitution was going to work out, we interviewed William A. Onion '40, its co-author, to find out what factors were involved in putting it into effect.

Edward E. Palmer '39 and Onion worked as co-authors in this effort to bring student government to Middlebury. Prof. Walter T. Bogart acted as advisor.

When asked the purpose that it is hoped the new constitution will serve, Onion stated, "Our new constitution at the present date exists only as a group of ideas upon which we may build a successful governmental organization here in Middlebury."

Administration Important

"It is when the administration of it takes place that we will really find the real constitution," he continued. "Through the administration of it we shall find certain parts too weak and possibly of little use, while others may need strengthening."

"Certain other sections will be found unusually strong and active. Through this whole process of administering it, a body of precedent will come into existence.

"Gradually these factors will determine the nature of the real constitution," he continued. "In addition, a time factor is involved. The constitution is written in such form that detail is omitted and flexibility is great, so that it may change to meet new demands which the students may place upon it in the future."

Keyword for Success

When asked as to its chances for success, Onion stated, "Administration is the keynote to its success from now on, and much time and effort must be invested in this phase both by the newly elected student council and by the future executives and legislative departments."

When questioned about the transition period, Onion said that this was self-explanatory from the constitution itself and would be purely a matter of administration.

Panther Tennis Team Continues Undefeated

Netmen Win Three Games During Junior Week Competition

With an unbroken string of victories behind them, the Panther tennis team will play the two closing matches of the season against Union and U. V. M. Last week the racquet wielders triumphed over U. V. M., St. Mike's, and R. P. I.

The Union match will be played on the home courts Saturday. The U. V. M encounter, a return match, will take place Monday at Burlington.

Competition of the Junior Week matches was stiffer than that previously encountered as the scores show, but Midd had no real difficulty in winning the tourneys.

The match against U. V. M. on Thursday was a 7-2 victory for Midd. Captain O'Keeffe won over Booth 6-2, 6-4, while McDowell beat Wolk in a three set match 6-4, 4-6, 6-3. Alexander took Pratt over 6-3, 6-3, but Maxwell found more difficulty in beating Simpson. This match went to three sets, Maxwell winning 6-4, 3-6, 6-3. Sprague lost to Simpson 6-4, 6-4. Latham's match with Benway also went to three sets, but Latham finally won 6-3, 5-7, 6-3.

In the doubles O'Keeffe and Crawford won easily over Pratt and Wolk 6-2, 6-2. Alexander and Maxwell lost a close match to Simpson and Simpson by the score of 9-7, 1-6, 6-1. McDowell and Sprague won a long, hard-fought match against Booth and Benway 14-12, 9-7.

The match on Friday with St. Mike's was an 8-1 victory for Midd. Captain O'Keeffe found little difficulty in beating Saucier, the score being 6-1, 6-0. McDowell also won easily over Sweeney 6-2, 6-3, as did Alexander over Coffey, 6-2, 6-1. Maxwell found stiffer competition in Hubert, but managed to win in two straight sets 6-4, 7-5. Sprague finally lost a hard-fought battle to Healey 3-6, 6-4, 6-3. McDonnell nearly proved Latham's equal, but Latham finally pulled the match out of the fire to win 8-10, 6-3, 6-0.

In the doubles O'Keeffe and Alexander won easily over Saucier and Hubert 6-2, 6-1. The match between Latham and Maxwell and McDonnell and Healey went to three sets, but the Middlebury boys won 6-1, 4-6, 6-2. McDowell and Sprague were paired against Coffey and Sweeney to win 6-3, 6-3.

INTERFRATERNITY TRACK MEET WILL BE RUN ON FRIDAY

Middlebury's annual track meet will take place this Friday on the track at Porter field. Not a regular meet as far as the number of events are concerned, this contest will comprise five events.

These events will start about four o'clock Friday afternoon and will be the following—100 yard dash, 120 yard low hurdles, high jump, shot put, and a half mile relay—each leg is 220 yards long.

Always one of the most popular of the spring intramural features, the track meet affords plenty of laughs as well as good competition. No member of the track team will be allowed to compete.

Softball

The team softball competition has reached the playoffs for third place. The final game is scheduled this Friday. ASP beat SPE 3-0 in the last first round playoff match. Yesterday DKE beat CP, 12-11, for the playoff in the first bracket, while today ASP plays KDR for the top teams in the second bracket.

The results of the first round matches are as follows: BK 13 SA 2; DKE 20-BK 3; CP 15-DU 7; KDR 15- Neut. 6 ASP 3-SPE 0.

Tennis Matches

Intramural tennis matches are in the process of being played, First round matches are to be completed by May 20, and the final game is scheduled for May 23. Individual golf matches are also underway.

COACH BROWN WILL ENTER TWO MEN IN NEW ENGLAND MEET

Paul Cushman and Charlie Hanson, Middlebury's ace half and quarter milers respectively will be the only Panther entries at the N. E. I. C. A. A. scheduled this Friday and Saturday at Durham, New Hampshire.

The New Englands will draw an entry list of twenty-three colleges from the eastern states, with only teams from Dartmouth, Harvard, and Yale being absent. The meet affords some of the toughest competition that any Midd runners have been up against this year, and although Cushman and Hanson are the best that Middlebury can offer, Coach Brown is not too optimistic about their chances. Paul has done close to a 2:00 flat 880, and Hanson was caught in exceptionally good time at the Easterns last week, but the two Panther runners will have to do better to even place at Durham. They leave Friday for the trials, and will compete in the finals on Saturday.

Middlebury Takes Place At Easterns

Panthers Garner Seventh Spot in Worcester Competition

The E. I. C. A. A. meet, held last Saturday, resulted in one of the fastest competitions in this division in recent years, with three records being broken and one tied. The meet was won by Conn. State with 44 2-5 points, two points more than Tufts could gather. Eight colleges participated.

Middlebury, handicapped by injury and ineligibility of freshmen, fell from their 17 points and fifth place of last year to 5 1-5 points and seventh place. Johnny Trask's tie for fourth in the pole vault with four other men resulted in the 1-5 of a point which placed Midd seventh over Mass. State's last with 5 points.

The best showing of the day by a Middlebury runner was that of Paul Cushman, who ran second to Rice of Conn. State in a 2:01.2 half mile. Cushman pushed Rice all the way and almost nipped the Conn. State runner at the tape.

The Panthers received an unlooked for place in the discus when Zeph Davis came through with the longest throw he has made in competition, 119 feet, which was good for fourth place.

In the quarter, Charlie Hanson, off to a bad start, finished fourth. In placing second last year, he returned better time than the winner this year. The winning time this year was 50.8, with Hanson's fourth being clocked in 51.7.

The individual star of the meet was Dugger of Tufts, who won both hurdles and one of the sprints, breaking the record in the high hurdles and equalling the mark in the lows. The other record breakers were Anderson of Conn. State with a vault of 12 feet 7 1-2 inches, and Atkinson of Conn. State, who beat out Frederickson of B. U. in the best race of the day, the two mile, in the fine time of 9:31.

Vermont, whom the Panthers will stack up against on May 30, scored 14 1-2 points to place fifth in the team rankings. Six of these markers were tallied by one man, Smith, who ran second in both sprints. Although Vermont surpassed Midd in the Easterns, Midd will be able to use Tabor, Wood, and Zydik, not eligible for the big meet, in the dual competition, and the Panther may reverse places with the Catamount.

It is not likely that Middlebury will send an entry to the N. E. I. C. A. A. at Durham, N. H. this Saturday, but is is still possible that Hanson and Cushman will make the trip.

TIME OUT by DAVY

QUESTIONAIRE

Anyone who is even casually conscious of what is happening to the Middlebury athletic teams must know by now that the baseball team is by far the most consistently poor performer of the season. Not only that but its a little discouraging writing every week about teams that seem to forget the existence of the word win. And since this is a period near the annual Faculty versus Students Question Bee (scheduled from May 27 to June 8, pay as you leave) a lot of inquisitive thoughts are crowding into our mind.

Possibly its unfair to feature the ball club when one can point to two other teams that aren't doing so well either. The track team is one, and the golf team is another. But when one takes a look at the situation you realize that although these combinations are technically called teams, in reality they are composed of completely individual performers. When they win or lose its not because the team spirit was there or not—its because some good men were on the track or swinging a club. The tennis team is quite naturally brought to mind by this disucssion. Here too is a "team" of individual players that depend largely upon their own ability to win or lose. It seems that they win quite often too. Rumor has it that they are the only undefeated team Middlebury has had since 1936.

But all this means that right now Middlebury is on the fence. Sports are either going to drop further on down grade or are due for a terrific boom The ball team is merely a representative team that the Panthers have turned out for the past couple of years. The football, or the basketball team could be used with equal emphasis. So here is a situation that has need of thought—plenty of thought, and its up to the student body to express their sentiments as to what exactly is wrong. Is it the facilities, the spirit, the coaches, the caliber of the athletes or the famous old alibi—weather hampers practice?

Don't think this is a panning or a personal criticism. Call it an obituary column before that. For all we know it may be the Panthers last dirge.

WHAT A WEEKEND

So now that the mud is out of our ears, and that touch of swamp fever gone we can sit back and review a very swell Junior Week. That is swell for the freshmen who humbled the mighty sophomores in the rope pull and the Steeplechase. That was some Steeplechase, and we hope that it can become part of the regular Junior Week program in the future. All we can remember is that Dick Treat pulled us through the swamp, shoved a piece of pie down our throat, rammed us through the conduit, and left us blissfully sleeping in the hay barn.

All in all it was a pretty good Junior Week. It didn't rain, the golf team won all matches as did the tennis team. U. V. M. and Norwich did trim us on the diamond to be sure, but since that seems to be the custom lately nobody was too much disturbed. And the track team placed a seventh, thereby ruining our predictions about them.

THE GREEKS AGAIN

We see by the papers that the annual Middlebury intramural track meet is scheduled for this Friday on Porter field. All of which means that Coach Brown will proably see a lot of fellows that he wishes were on his track team go out and do amazing feats on the track and field. It is always an eyeopener for any coach to see the times and distances turned in by men who have never shown an interest in track until the free-for-all every May.

There are only five events to compete in, but they afford plenty of excitement for one afternoon. For the sophomores we might suggest that it is a chance to have revenge on the freshmen. Anyway show up all that can—no Potato league championship depends on this meet at least.

Panthers Bow To U. V. M., Norwich

State League Defeats Make Four Straight Lost By Middmen

Middlebury's baseball team dropped both Junior Week games last Thursday and Saturday. The Panthers bowed to U. V. M. 4-0 and to Norwich 9-6, making the Midd record in the Potato league four defeats and no wins.

Gustafson Used Thursday

Gustafson pitched the whole game for the Panthers on Thursday, and made six strikeouts, while Kimball hurled for U. V. M. with 15 strikeouts. The score was nothing to nothing until the seventh inning, when Vermont put across one run, following up with three more in the eighth. As in the earlier game with U. V. M. played in Burlington, the Panthers had three men on in the first inning with only one out, but both times the three men died on base.

Van Gaasbeck Against Norwich

Van Gaasbeck pitched the whole game against Norwich, with Henderson the opposing pitcher. In the first inning, Prukop singled, and Bertuzzi's triple brought him home, giving the Panther a one run lead. At the end of the third however, the score stood even with 3 all and stayed until the 5th when Norwich scored three more runs. Midd retaliated by batting home two runs in its share of the inning, still keeping the Blue and White in the running. Norwich sewed up the game, however, in the 7th by scoring three more runs.

The Panther's last run came in the eighth when Kirk singled, stole second, stole third, and on a wild peg to catch him at third, stole home. Kirk in the 5th hit a triple to drive Arty Jaques home, and then stole home again. Best hits of the afternoon were three baggers by Kirk, Bertuzzi, and Yeomans. This was the last home game of the season for the diamondmen.

Last Contest to be Against Norwich Saturday At Northfield

Middlebury's diamondmen dropped another Potato league tilt yesterday, being beaten by the St. Michael's team, 8-2, in a game played on the Hilltop field.

Steffens On Mound

Steffens, pitching for the Ryanmen, allowed six hits, all scattered, and struck out seven, while Bertuzzi, and Van Gaasbeck, who relieved Sammy in the seventh, allowed fourteen hits.

The Saints got off to a good start in the first inning, Leahy singling to right field. Larmie then hit a fielder's choice, putting Leahy out at second. Then Wallen slapped out a long double into left. Pro Herbert, stalwart first baseman of the Purple nine, then cracked out a single that scored both Wallin and Larmie.

Middmen Score 2

In the fourth inning ,the Middmen made a gallant attempt to even up the score, Johnson starting off the scoring by a lucky single through the pitcher's box. Then Steffens walked Hutton. Hogan flied out to right field, then Whitey Hawes hit the best one of the day, poling one over Leahy's head for a triple that scored Johnson and Hutton.

In the last half of this inning the Purple again put in a scoring punch, first filling the bases, then Leahy and Wallen scored on Pro Herbert's second hit of the day.

Middlebury's final bid for the lead came in the fifth with a long hit that was good for a three bagger, but was unable to score as Bertuzzi grounded out and D'Errico fanned.

The superior hitting of the Saints again came through in this inning, with the Ryanmen making three more runs.

Norwich Last Game

This game is the next to last for the Middmen, as they meet Norwich Saturday in the final tilt of the season. This game is scheduled to be played in Northfield.

Yesterday the Norwich nine was soundly trimmed by the Catamount, 17-0, scoring ten runs in the first inning There were fifteen hits off the two Norwich hurlers, Jackson and Modgdon.

RUTLAND COUNTRY CLUB NEXT MATCH FOR MIDD GOLFERS

Meeting Clarkson and Norwich over the Junior Week holidays, the Middlebury golf team broke their recent losing streak and defeated Clarkson 4 1-2 —2 1-2 and Norwich 4 1-2—1 1-2.

The Panthers have won two and lost two during this year's golf season. The Rutland Country Club match has been postponed until this Saturday. Coach Beck feels that now that the season is well advanced the team has hit a stride that was missing earlier this year.

Chapman in number one spot for the Clarkson match lost his individual game, but his partner co-captain Cashman won his individual match, and together they tied for the best ball. Co-captain Petrizzi, number three man, and Dixie Davis, in number four position, won their individual matches and tallied three of the Panthers four and one half points. Roger Howard in number five position lost his match four and three.

Middlebury used a four man team against the Horsemen with Chapman again in number one, co-captains Cashman and Petrizzi as number two and three, and Dixie Davis in number four position.

Chapman, again teamed with Cashman, won his individual match while Cashman lost his, but together they tied for the best ball.

Petrizzi won his singles match as did his partner Davis, together they won the best ball, chalked up three points, and clinched the match.

"It Was A Great Battle, Ma, But I Won"--The Frosh-Soph Combat

By Malcolm Freiberg '41

It's an annual affair. And it's an annual tradition that the freshmen swamp the sophomores. Saturday's rope pull staged in the rear of Old Chapel was no exception to the rule—by sheer force of numbers the first-year men literally pulled the hands off their second-year brothers.

It all started when the sophomore men saw that they were going to be skunked in the rope pull. By virtue of their being upper classmen, they calmly proceeded to take the fire hose from the capable hands of Leon Turner, trustworthy night watchman, and turn it on the frosh. Nothing daunted, the first year men just as calmly took the hose away from the sophs and in turn sprayed them liberally with cold, cold water.

Steeplechase

But the rope pull was only a prelude to the main event of the morning—the steeplechase, taking place in the general vicinity of Porter field. Freshmen Dixie Davis and Kenny Cosgrove came in first and third respectively, Bud Berry of the sophomores in second spot in one of the most grueling exhibitions of masculine power ever witnessed in this neck of the woods. As he staggered through the finish gates, Davis was barely able to receive the steeplechase trophy from the hands of Paul S. Eriksson, '40 chairman of Junior Week.

"They're off!" yelled "Doc" Womack, and twenty two-man teams, ten from each class, started eating blueberry pie on the turf of the football gridiron. With no hands allowed on this, many of the contestants had lots of fun. But evidently the pie was not like the kind that mother used to make, for much of it was strewn around the field after the combat. Freddie Bates, however, was too much of an epicure to let his go by the wayside; he was observed halfway around the course, still chewing on his share.

After a race to the other end of the football field in wheelbarrow fashion, the contestants dropped flags into a hopper. Here started the three-legged race of the course, and the fun was on. Following the brook, the entrants slowly wormed their difficult way to Porter pond. Mud, and a pond filled waist-deep with water, were the hardest obstacles to be overcome in the race. Out to the road, where their legs were untied, the contestants had to crawl through a culvert beneath the road.

Greased Wire

Many of the leaders fell behind at the greased wire located at the east end of the field. Swinging oneself over a slippery wire at the end of a hard combat is not one of the easiest things to do in the early morning. Then, the contestants had to race backward down the field, and finish up sprinting the final sixty yards in orthodox running fashion. Here Davis won hands down. Berry and Cosgrove came flashing down the home strech neck and neck. Cosgrove, however, was disqualified when he failed to pass through the uprights at the race's end, and Berry gathered the second place laurels.

It's all over now for another year. But neither the sophomores or the freshmen are thinking of that. The larger part of them are busy nursing their many hurts, all a result of Saturday's strenuous competition.

Panther Netmen Sweep All Junior Week Meets

Middlebury's victory over R. P. I. on Saturday was an 8-1 win, although four of the matches went to three sets. O'Keeffe, McDowell, and Alexander won over Pinedo, Gonzalez, and Colony, no match going to three sets. Maxwell had more trouble beating Reider, but won 4-6, 6-4, 6-4. Sprague won over Smith 7-5, 2-6, 6-3 and Latham beat Sherry easily.

O'Keeffe and Latham, in the number one doubles, beat Gonzalez and Pinedo, 7-9, 6-3, 6-2. Alexander and Maxwell triumphed over Colony and Pilgrim by a score of 6-3, 8-6. Then Midd received the only defeat of the day when McDowell and Sprague dropped their match to Smith and Sherry 9-7, 6-2.

Yesterday and today the Middmen have been on a trip to New York state which included matches with Colgate at Hamilton on the former day and St. Lawrence at Canton today. The Colgate match will seriously endanger the Panther's chance for an undefeated season for the Raiders boast one of the strongest teams in the East.

Against St. Lawrence the Middlebury team should come through without much trouble. The Larries fell an easy victim last year and the scores of their matches with the University of Vermont and with St. Michael's do not indicate that they are strong enough to give the locals any real competition.

John C. Trask '41, Alice Hastings '41 Announce Early Publication for Mountain Club Handbook

The new Middlebury Mountain club handbook with an attractive and interesting 80 page layout will be released from the printers sometime before the close of the college year.

Edited by John C. Trask '41 and Alice Hastings '41, the new publication is patterned after the Dartmouth Outing club handbook of recent years. Augustin A. Root '42 and Ruth H. Packard '41 are the business managers.

The handbook, which will be sold to undergraduates both this spring and next fall, is primarily designed to give incoming freshmen an understanding of the Mountain club and its aims. According to the editors, the handbook will strive to show the relationship of the Mountain club to the college and to the undergraduates and alumni.

The new publication is 4 x 6 inches and features a heavy blue and white cover with the club seal. Its contents include: first aid hints, weather signs, equipment hints, songs, the Mountain club constitution and other articles of interest. Maps of the Green Mountain region will give prospective hikers valuable information on the many different trips that can be made in this section of Vermont

It has long been the object of the Mountain club to have its own handbook similar to that of Dartmouth and other large universities. Something very much like this was accomplished when Charles S. Rumbold '40, as editor of the 1938-1939 Handbook included a complete Mountain club section which contained a great deal of information pertinent to the club. The production of its own handbook by the organization is only a further step in the same direction.

DENTISTRY

The field of dentistry today offers to college students an attractive career. It provides a worthy intellectual challenge, a life of professional service with satisfactory income, and an opportunity for research and teaching in this division of medical science and art.

The University of Pennsylvania has prepared more than six thousand graduates who are occupying positions of importance in the profession throughout the world. Its course of instruction is of the highest order.

Anyone interested in this profession as a life work is invited to apply for further information to;
